

AGAIN Far East Looks Warlike

Leading Men of Tokio Say War is Sure

WARSHIPS HAVE BEEN STRIPPED FOR ACTION.

THE CLAMOR FOR WAR GROWING.

Seoul-Fusan Railway in Korea Has Been Occupied by Japanese—The Day's News.

Rome, Feb. 3.—News from the far East today asserts that Japan has determined to present an ultimatum to Russia on Feb. 10, if no conclusion of the matter in dispute has been reached before that time.

READY FOR WAR.

London, Feb. 3.—Your correspondent has been shown letters from leading men in Tokio to friends in Europe, which state that everything is ready in Japan for war, and that an outbreak is inevitable. Russia's commissions are not likely to suffice and this is the last phase of the negotiations before a resort to arms. Influential Japanese citizens in Europe, including one notable diplomat according to these letters, have advised the government at Tokio that now is their time to assert itself.

JAPS OCCUPY RAILWAY.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—The newspaper Wostochin Wiestnik today states that the Seoul-Fusan railway in Korea has been occupied by Japanese troops. A number of guns, says the paper, have been taken to Seoul for the protection of the Japanese legation there. Cavalry accommodations are being built along the road. The bourse here is again weak today, four per cent internal rentes falling one point.

RUSSIAN ORDERS.

Paris, Feb. 3.—The correspondent of the Journal at Port Arthur cables that orders have been received for the mobilization of the Russian squadrons there and at Vladivostok, and that both are now ready to take to sea at a moment's notice.

STRIPPED FOR ACTION.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—A dispatch from Vladivostok dated February 2, and issued here by a semi-official agency, says the Russian fleet at Vladivostok has been fully equipped for immediate services and prepared for sea. All the wood fittings of the ships were removed Monday. The harbor is being kept open by ice breakers.

The fleet consists of four cruisers, the Cronoboi (of 12,736 tons), the Rossia (of 12,120 tons), the Bogatyr (of 6,750 tons) and the Rurik (of 16,925 tons), and a transport, the Lena.

The czar now has the reply to Japan and is going over it carefully before it is sent to Tokyo. Beyond the general intimation that it is conciliatory in tone and makes concessions which should satisfy Japan, the contents of the paper are carefully guarded and knowledge of how far it really goes is confined to the Ministers who have drawn it up.

That there is no very strong feeling that it will readily prove satisfactory to Japan is evidenced by the activity in sending reinforcements to Admiral Alexieff.

An additional 50,000 men have been ordered to the East. They will go as quickly as transportation can be provided for them.

It is believed that the note to Japan will be in Tokyo not later than tomorrow, and it may reach the Japanese Capital today.

mobilization precedes the Russian re-

SENATOR CHARLES DIETRICH.

The manner in which Senator Charles H. Dietrich of Nebraska, has gotten clear of the troubles which have threatened him since a Federal Grand Jury indicted him on the charge of bribery in a postoffice appoint-ment adds another link to one of the most remarkable chains of good fortune which ever attended man. Dietrich started out as a poor boy, but made a fortune in the Black Hills, then went into banking in Nebraska, and ultimately entered politics with the same remarkable success that had attended his business ventures. The joy of his daughter over his present triumph is one of the picturesque phases of the present outcome.

Senator Dietrich escaped trial on a mere technicality. He got out of this affair by showing that at the time the alleged offense was committed he had not taken the oath of United States Senator. The Senate has now appointed a committee to hear evidence in the case and arrive at a conclusion.

SUPREME COURT SAYS TRUST COMPANIES CAN'T ADMINISTER ESTATES.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—Trust companies cannot act as administrators of estates, the Supreme court of Ohio so deciding in the suit brought by Sarah C. McCaugh against Mary M.
Fehumacher.

The estate of the late Cotton Allen is the one over which the controversy arose.

Mrs. McCaugh, a sister of Mr. Allen, sought to be appointed administrator of his estate, but some of the other heirs and creditors objected, and Judge Galloway, under a recent legislative enactment, appointed the State Savings Bank and Trust company to administer the trust, and refused to appoint Mrs. McCaugh. An appeal was now pending.

LAWYER GANG

Intimates That He Was Drugged During the Bechtel Trial.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 3.—Sensations incident to the Mabel Bechtel murder mystery are promised in the near future. Both of these matters have been the subject of street talk for several weeks, but it is now stated that the disclosures are near at hand. The district Attorney Lichtenberger, who is to have a hearing in March 17, on the charge of disorderly conduct and neglect of his official duties in connection with the Bechtel trial, was interviewed today and stated that one of the sensations will be the disclosure of evidence that during the Bechtel trial and Bechtel trials he was drugged and that was the result of his discrepant conduct in the case and the two occasions.

BUILT A FIRE

Evans, Ill., Feb. 3.—A small house burning in the town of Evans, about a mile and a half west of Evans, caught fire about 10 o'clock last night, and the fire spread rapidly, and it is feared that the house will be burned to the ground. The house was owned by James Schuch, a well-known farmer, and it is feared that the loss will be considerable.

SAD STORY IS TOLD BY THE CASHIER

Everything That Rose Touched Went to Pieces.

Began Speculating Eight Years Ago—Invested $10 in Chicago Wheat Deal.

Cleveland, Feb. 3.—(Bulletin)—Geo.
A. Rose, the cashier of the Produce Exchange Bank, who embezzled $187,- 000 of the bank's funds, was today sentenced to ten years in the Ohio penitentiary.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 3.—At a lengthy interview in the county jail the personal examination of George A. Rose, ex-cashier of the Produce Exchange
Banking company, who embezzled $187,000, was concluded by Charles O.
Evarts, secretary and treasurer of the bank which Rose wrecked. This winds up the business between the bank officials and their late trusted employee. Rose's arraignment and sentence is a question of a few hours.

Interesting facts which Rose has divulged at different times since his first arrest are coming to light. It is known that at Prosecutor Keeler's interview with Rose he told the following story:

Rose first started upon his mad career of margin speculation eight years ago. It seems, according to his story, that he and his wife were sitting at the breakfast table one Sunday morning eight years ago. Rose was reading his paper, in which was related the story of some daring wheat speculators' lightning-like rise to fabulous fortune in the Chicago pit. His attention was arrested by the article and by the glowing account it gave of easily made wealth through speculation. He determined to try his luck and chose as the sphere of his operations the Chicago grain pit.

Rose's first venture was a small one and a lucky one—at first. He sent $10 to a brokerage firm in Chicago which had glowingly pictured to him the possibilities of margin speculation.
The little venture netted Rose $20 clear profit, exactly tripling his small investment. Before the Chicago broker had time to send Rose his $30 the concern went to the wall and Rose lost all.

From the first, Rose said his operations consisted of an alternate series of luckless ventures and corresponding attempts to retrieve his losses.
The money he took from the bank went into the stock market, he said.
The more he ventured the more desperately he gambled to recoup his losses.

"It seemed as though everything I touched went to pieces," said Rose, after he had related his hapless experience in buying certain stock. "I once placed $2,500 with Denison, Prior & Co. of Cleveland," said Rose, "and the money went to purchase United States Steel and Union Pacific. I bought when both stocks were up, and as soon as I bought they went right down. That was always my luck. This money, however, was not bank money. It was money when belonged to me and to my mother. I lost it all."

Rose's salary when arrested was $115 per month.

Two Men Killed.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 3.—In a fire in the heart of the wholesale district last night, which caused a loss of $100,000, two men were killed. They were William J. Maxey and John J. Dunn. The fire started in the six-story Phoenix building, and the whole block of buildings was threatened.
The fire was quickly extinguished,
but the loss was heavy.

Demands Home Rule for Ireland

LONDON, Feb. 3.—John Redmond, the Irish leader in behalf of the Nationalists, demanded home rule for Ireland in the House of Commons today. Redmond spoke at length with much force. He was cheered on time and again by his compatriots. Redmond made an insistent demand for a radical change in the system of the government of Ireland without reservation or qualification by the home government. In trenchant terms he asserted that the government was one, "under which Ireland had been pauperized and depopulated." The declaration was greeted with a salvo of applause from the Irish wing. Taking up the position of the home government in its efforts to evade and thereby kill Irish fusion, Mr. Redmond said: "No greater de-lusion could be entertained than that question could be got rid of. Neither force nor concession could release the British government of the necessary consequences of maintaining a system opposed to the will of the governed."

Seven Killed in a Wreck.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 3.—Seven persons are reported to have been killed in a wreck on the Inter-Colonial railroad near Halifax. The wrecked train is the Canadian Pacific express which left this city this morning for Montreal and Boston. Telegraph communication is interrupted on account of the wreck.

It is now known that seven people are dead, and that every person on the train except one was injured.
Conductor Doykin was among the killed, but the rest of the dead were passengers. A broken rail caused the wreck.

Whole Family Has Appendicitis.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 3.—Misses Leona, Kate and Frankie Lawrence, society favorites and daughters of Bryan Lawrence, a wealthy resident of this city, were operated on at the Presbyterian Hospital yesterday for appendicitis. The young women stood the knife bravely and the physicians think they will recover.

The girls became ill while attending a social function last Friday evening. The physicians diagnosed their illness as appendicitis, but tried to avoid the use of the knife. However, after consultation, they decided that an operation on each was imperative, and the girls were operated on, one after the other, in the order of their age.

Three weeks ago their father underwent an operation for appendicitis from which he has just recovered.

WM. C. WHITNEY IS DEAD.

Ex = Secretary of Navy Passes Away.

Victim of Appendicitis Dies While the Doc- tors Prepare for Second Oper- ation.

New York, Feb. 3.—New York is preparing today to do honor to the late Wm. C. Whitney, former Secretary of the Navy, who died at his home yesterday afternoon from peritonitis. The funeral services will probably be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Grace church, where Mr. Whitney was a pew holder. Before death Mr. Whitney suffered excruciating agony.

New York, Feb. 3.—William Collins Whitney, former secretary of the navy, died a few minutes after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home, 57 Fifth avenue. He died while under the influence of other administered preparatory to a second operation for appendicitis. By his bedside were his son, Harry Payne Whitney, and his daughter, Dorothy Whitney, as well as Dr. William T.
Hall, the chief surgeon in attendance.
Mr. Whitney was in his sixty-fourth year.

Mr. Whitney was taken ill Friday night at the performance of a recital at the Metropolitan opera house and had to leave before the opera ended.
Dr. Walter F. James, the Whitney family physician, was summoned and found that the condition of the patient was such that after consultation an operation was decided upon and was performed by Dr. Bull. The pa-

Large Companies Fall

INVOLVED IN FAILURE OF THE TEXAS FIRMS

A RUN ON THE BANK FOLLOWED

Statement That Receiver Had Been Named by the Courts—Embar- rassment but Temporary.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 3.—The Kirby Lumber company and the Houston Oil company, two of the largest corporations in Texas, have been placed in the hands of temporary receivers
by the federal court at New Orleans.
P. F. Bonner who is closely associated with John M. Kirby and N. W.
McLeod of St. Louis, were named as receivers for the lumber company, and Captain F. A. Reichardt, cashier of the Planters and Mechanics National bank of this city, and Thomas H. Franklin of San Antonio, Texas, were appointed receivers for the Houston Oil company. The application for temporary receivers was made at the instance of the Maryland Trust company. When the order was entered at New Orleans by Federal Judge A. P. McCormick, it is understood that the Kirby interests were present and insisted on being represented in the receiverships. At the instance of the applicant the order was made a secret one for 48 hours, but it leaked out and was later confirmed by Floyd McGowan of the law firm of Denman, Franklin & McGowan, of San Antonio, passed through Houston en route from New Orleans.
Mr. McGowan gave out the following statement, in part as follows:

"It is quite evident that the receiverships are merely for the purpose of holding the properties of the two companies intact until an amicable adjustment pending negotiations can be brought about. I believe that this will be done before February 17, which is the day set for the final orders in the case. I feel satisfied that there will be an adjustment and settlement of everything by that time, and that no permanent receiver will be appointed. The business of the two companies will proceed as usual and no other interests will be involved thereby.

"The receiverships were brought about through the application of the Maryland Trust company, holders of timber certificates on the Kirby Lumber company, and guaranteed by the Houston Oil company, upon which interest was not paid when due. It is understood that the trust company is itself in the hands of a receiver and it was on this account that the offer brought about the application for temporary receivers. He did not feel that he was authorized to make further extensions, although everything indicated that $700,000 due the trust company would be paid within a few days.

"I feel that every cent due will be paid and that the receivership will be of only temporary duration. I feel also at liberty to state that Mr. Kirby's individual interests and his in-vestment's throughout the state are in no way affected."

The Kirby Lumber company is capitalized at $10,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is preferred stock and $5,000,000 common stock.

The property of the Kirby Lumber company consists of 25 lumber mills and mercantile stores, all in Texas; 142 miles of railroad, 700 cars, 35 locomotives, 20,000 acres of pine land, logging outfits, and tie and piling outfits. This company's inventory shows $1,000,000 worth of lumber on hand, its assets are claimed to be $12,500,- 000 in excess of liabilities.

The Houston Oil company owns 1,000,000 acres of pine land, valued by

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

LONE DOG'S NEW AGENT

By F. B. Wright
Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure.

Brainard was the new agent's name, and he was slight and young looking and curly headed. The N. W. and M. had appointed him station agent at Lone Dog because no one else would take the job.

Lone Dog resented Brainard's apparent youth, his cleanliness and his sobriety, the last two constituting the height of eccentricity in Lone Dog, and four nights after his arrival whined in to have fun with the "kid tenderfoot." It was harmless fun enough. But the boy—his name was Little more—did not understand it and grew angry, then sullen and then scared, to the great delight of the circle of grinning cowboys lounging under the station lamp. They made the boy tell them of the east; they made him speak pieces, dance and sing; then, the fun flagging, some ingeniously inclined gentlemen had rifled his shabby little trunk and held its contents up for derision.

"Gents," cried a bandy legged individual in "chaps" and sombrero, jumping on to the one ink stained table and holding up a photograph to the audience—"gents, I want to call your attention to the most unparalleled and stupendous curiosity ever found in these yere parts—a genuwine picter of a gal and a mighty fine gal too. None of these yere biscuit shooters, this ain't, but the real article; only needs to be seen to be appreciated. In order to avoid a rumpus over this yere work of art I'm going to give you all a chance at it. What do you bid for it? Come high, boys, for the honor of Lone Dog."

The idea caught the crowd. There were cries of "Hand it around, Bud!" "The kid's gal, you say?" "Durned if I ain't seen one since last roundup!" And amid a chorus of comment and suggestion the bidding went on.

At last it was knocked down to Steve Oliver of the — X ranch outfit, the price being drinks for the crowd.

"Who is it, kid?" said Steve when he returned to his place against the wall.

"It's—it's—my sister," answered the boy, coloring. "Please give it back to me."

"Don't you fret; you'll get it back again, sonny. Sister, eh?" Steve moved ed over toward the one lamp and studied the picture, while the other men turned to fresh devices.

These consisted in making the boy drink. He didn't seem to be cheerful enough, they said.

The boy refused and then after many threats touched his lips gingerly to a bottle and choked.

"I can't," he said, coughing and spluttering.

"You don't pass out like that," growled the owner of the bottle. "You drink!"

"I can't," said young Brainard, "and I won't."

"Says 'shan't' and 'won't' just like a sure enough man," commented his tormentor. "Well, you've got to. We don't like prohibitioners around here. They ain't popular." The man twisted his hand in the collar of the boy's blue shirt as he spoke, but the boy tore away, sprang across the room and pulled a pistol. For a moment it looked as if the comedy were about to change to tragedy, and then the boy's arm was knocked up and the gun wrenched from his trembling hand. It was the cowboy who had bought the picture.

"You're too old to play with them things, sonny," he said quietly, "and too young to get shot." Then he turned to the others. "I don't know how you feel, boys," he said, "but I don't reckon I keep for no more fun tonight—at least this here kind. Playin' with children is mighty common, but they're liable to get too famous to suit me. I move we pull our freight to the saloon. The drinks are on me."

It was, on the whole, a good natured crowd, and Steve was popular, wherefore it took the hint and its pomes and departed waddling.

An hour later Steve returned. The lamp was out, and he was about to ride along when he heard the sound of sobbing from the dark interior of the station.

"Holy smoke! They don't breed men where he comes from, that's sure," said he, dismounting and going to the door. He moved toward the sound and made out the boy crouching beside a bench, his face in his hands. At the far of heavy footsteps the boy started, but Steve laid a kindly hand on his shoulder. "There, sonny, don't take on like that when there ain't no reason. The boys was just playin'. They didn't mean no harm unless you'd pulled that trigger."

"I'd have killed him," sobbed the boy, "he'd touched me again!"

Steve chuckled. "He was safe enough, kid. It was the rest of us you had scared. It was plumb ridiculous."

The boy apparently did not see the comicality of the situation, for he continued crying softly, while Steve looked on, powerless to help. A crying man was something new in his philosophy.

"Look here, kid," he said at last, "why did you come here anyway? You're mighty young and inexperienced for this here strenuous life."

"I had to. This was the only place I could get."

"Ain't you got no kin?"

"They're all dead."

"Your sister—she ain't, is she?"

"My sister? What sister? What do you mean?"

"The sister whose picture the boys was admirin' of."

"Oh, she? She's living?"

There was a long pause. "She's a right purty gal," said Steve. "I've been studyin' that picture. She certainly favors you a heap—that is, if she has yaller hair, like yours. Has she?"

"Yes," returned the boy, "it's just the color of mine."

"I reckoned so. Long, I bet, and curly. I knowed it. What's her name?"

"Er—Jessie."

"Jessie?" Steve pondered over the name as if to see if it would fit his preconceived notions. "You'll be having her on here soon, I reckon, won't you? I'm powerful anxious to come up with your sister."

The boy gave a queer little laugh, which changed to a sigh.

"I guess not now," he said, "after what's happened. I must go away—go back. I ought never to have come. I didn't see it before. Oh, you can't understand," he cried. "I don't want to go. I haven't any situation nor money nor friends!" He broke down, sobbing, again.

"And run away from nothing. The boys ain't goin' to do no harm. I'll see you don't get messed with too much."

"But when you ain't here what would happen? Oh, if you hadn't been here tonight! No; there's no way but for me to leave."

Steve shifted uneasily in his chair. "This here sister of yours," he said at last, "do you reckon now she'd marry me if I could get to ask her?" He stopped the boy as he was about to speak. "Just keep quiet, sonny, and let me bark a spell. I've been doing a lot of thinkin' since I come here this evening, and it's been about her. I've been driftin' around these parts for the last ten years and more, ever since I was half as young as you, getting into scrapes and out of 'em, riding the ranges, roundin' up, fightin' when I had to, drinkin' and gamblin' and shootin' up a town, just like all men does out here, withouten there's a woman to hold 'em steady, and tonight when I see your sister's picture it come across me that I wanted to settle down, and I wanted her to help me. That's why I don't want you to go away, kid, for if you do I won't get no chance to see her and ask her. Do you reckon she'd look at me, kid?"

The boy said nothing for a moment, while Steve watched him anxiously. The dawn was just breaking over the plains, and a pale light came through the dirty windows of the station.

"I—I haven't any sister," said the boy huskily at last. "I lied to you, but you've been too good to me, and I can't keep it up. I—the picture—it's me. I'm—oh, can't you see—I'm a girl!"

"A girl! I'll be—!" Steve didn't finish the sentence. He rose and went to the window and looked out on the faint gray green of the sagebrush. Brainard continued as if in defense: "I had to do it. I helped my brother in the station at home and learned to telegraph. Then he died, and no one had any work for a girl—at least work I could do. Then I thought I would come west, dressed as a man, and I got this job, and now—now you know why I've got to go back."

Steve turned and came to the side of the girl. "You ain't got to go back, and you ain't a goin'—not if I can help it. I might have known you was a woman, only I didn't know women had such grit. Look here, kid—I mean—that is—"

"Jessie was my sister's name," said the girl, with a little laugh.

"Well, I'm rough, and I don't deserve no such gal as you, Jessie, but there's a heap of men git what they don't deserve, and I ain't no mighty bad. You say you kin telegraph. Well, you sit down then to that ticker and do some telegraphin' for me, one up the line for a new agent for Lone Dog Station and one to Prairie City for a parson. And tell 'em I give 'em until tomorrow mornin' to get here on the first train," added Steve Oliver, with emphasis.

Her Reproof.

Two mischievous boys in the school were laughing uproariously over some slight mistake one of the pupils had made in translation. The teacher looked at them resignedly for a few minutes and then remarked quietly:

"If any thing really funny should ever happen in this class, I fear that Mr. Smith and Mr. Jones would require the services of a physician."—New York Times.

PAPER FURNITURE.
Entertaining and Useful Winter Evening Work For Young Folks.
An instructive and entertaining employment for the young people during the winter evenings is the making of furniture out of old newspapers. The Household has told something about it, as follows: The materials required are a sharp pair of scissors, a bundle of old newspapers, some sheets of tissue paper, also gloss paper, a bottle of mucilage or paste, some bits of string or ribbon and a few sheets of stout cardboard.

To construct a pretty table, smooth a newspaper out flat on an ordinary kitchen table, and, taking up a single sheet, roll it tightly, beginning at one corner, as shown in Fig. 1. When tightly rolled, as shown in Fig. 2, paste the last corner down smoothly, making four of these "spills," which form the legs of your table. Place them together and cut off the loose ends, making them of equal length. Now roll up smaller sheets of paper and insert them in each leg in order to strengthen them. Push them down as far as possible at each end and cut off the protruding parts. By this means the legs may be almost as hard as wood, and a little varnish or sizing will help make them still more firm. Cut black and gold paper into long, even strips and paste them neatly around the legs, as shown in Fig. 3, having previously covered them with a sheet of tissue or gloss paper of some chosen color, or give them a coat of light enamel before adding the black and gold paper. When the legs are finished bind four of them together, using ribbon or wire covered with ribbon, as shown in Fig. 4. Three crosspieces must next be made in a similar manner and attached to the legs, as shown in Fig. 5. These crosspieces can be decorated with curled tissue paper and tipped with gold or silver paper if liked, and the intersections can be concealed by bows or rosettes of the tissue paper. Next cut a piece of cardboard of suitable size for the top of your table, having it either square or round. You can often find a box cover that would do nicely. Paste a fringe of tissue paper around the edges. Cut fancy patterns from gloss paper and paste on top of the table to give it the appearance of inlaid work.

The table top is fastened to the legs by means of a needle and strong linen thread, the stitches being concealed by the stars or other patterns cut from the gloss paper and pasted over them, and the table is complete, as in Fig. 6.

Fig. 7 shows another variety of table. Other articles that can be made are flower stands, fern baskets, music racks and bookcases. The strength and durability of these articles will surprise those who have not tested the toughness of paper. They are strong enough to hold a plant or book or any other small article, and are really quite pretty.

A feature of a church bazaar held recently in a western city was a booth where paper furniture was sold. Dainty specimens of handiwork brought unlooked for prices, their neatness and novelty attracting attention.

A Bit of Fancy Work.
Very handsome squares for the tops of pillow covers may be made by taking repped cretonne of fine coloring and large, bold design and darning in all the background uniformly in one colored floss. When this is done the effect is that of painting and embroidery combined. Any person who can darn can do lovely work in this direction.

Items of Health and Beauty.
Fresh air and plenty of sunshine are absolutely indispensable to give the bloom of health to the skin.

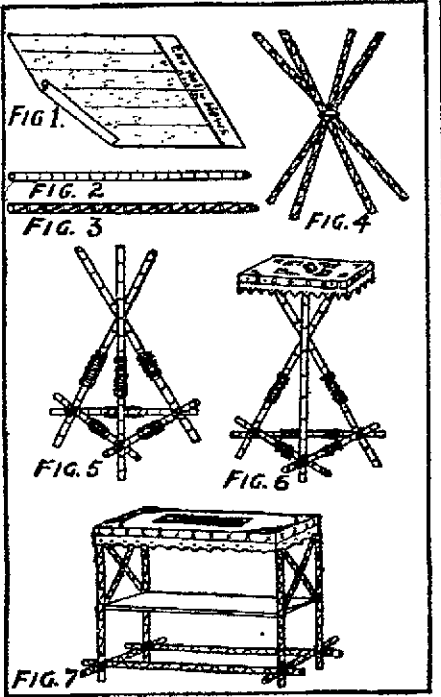

In endeavoring to improve the complexion it is a good plan to sometimes substitute boiled fish or eggs for meat and to eat raw apples, grapes and figs regularly.

If womankind had realized the beauty benefits of plenty of restful, refreshing sleep all femininity would be crawling into bed at sunset.

Insufficient air, rich diet, overclothing and even want of cleanliness are too often the cause of the muddy, unwholesome complexion.

A daily bath in cold or tepid water is an indispensable aid in keeping the skin of the body in good condition. The complexion also very often suffers from insufficient washing in pure water, or, for preference, in rain water.

The bedroom windows should be kept open a little even during the coldest winter nights. Whether the weather be wet or fine a quick walk in the fresh air should be taken at some part of the day, even if it involves a risk of catching cold.

A FAMILY AFFAIR
[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]
We had with us in C company a man about forty years old named Reuben Hardman, and he was the only man among us who kept close mouthed about his identity and his family history. Some of the men thought there was good reason for this, but it didn't transpire that Hardman had anything to be ashamed of. The truth came out one day as he was nursing and stumbling over a bad road, and when his patience had become exhausted he said:

"Gaul durn Dan'l's hide, but if I had him here I'd wallop him till he couldn't holler! What on earth did he go and do it for and bring all this trouble on me?"

Some of the boys asked him who Dan'l was, and then the mystery was solved. Dan'l was a brother who had gone south and enlisted in the Confederate army and was then known to be in among the troops confronting us. If Reuben was a good Union man Dan'l was no less a good Confederate, and if Reuben cursed Dan'l for the war his adjectives were supposed to be returned with interest.

We wondered if it would so happen that the two would meet in battle, but time went on until we got around to Petersburg. As our regiment took the rifle pits in the center of Grant's lines one day Reuben was one of the men detailed for the pits. At this point Union and Confederate pits were not more than a hundred feet apart, and to show a head above the earth was sure death. Reuben had a high pitched voice, and any one having heard it could identify him in the darkest night. It began raining soon after he and a comrade had reached the pit, and the brother soon began the same old tirade against Daniel.

Suddenly a voice from the Confederate pit opposite shouted out:

"Say, now, but shuck my hide if I don't know the critter who owns that voice!"

"Who be you over there?" called Reuben as he started up.

"I'm Dan'l, of course."

"You don't mean it?"

"Yes, I do, and you are Reube. I'd know that voice of yours if I heard it in China. Say, old man, how are ye, and how are all the folks at home?"

"I'm well 'nuff, and the folks are well 'nuff, but I'm powerful mad. What did you go and turn rebel for and make all this trouble? You hain't got a spark of decency about you, Dan'l Hardman!"

"I'm as good as any old Yankee," replied Daniel.

"You ain't either. Just let me git holt of you, and you'll sing a different tune. I want you to come right over here and surrender and behave yourself. Do you hear me?"

Their conversation in the pits was heard by a score of men on either side, and first one would cheer and then the other. When there was a break in the talk, a Confederate would shout across:

"Hey there, Reube, come over to the house and see Dan'l!"

"You had boy, Dan'l, come home and be licked!" a Federal would shout in answer. And for an hour the firing from half a dozen rifle pits was suspended. When Reuben took his second trick in the pit he was so eager to open communication that he exposed his head, and a bullet sent his cap flying ten feet away.

"Durn your hide, but that was you, Dan'l!" he shouted as he crouched down. "Yes, I'll bet it was. You hain't got no more sense in your head than to go and shoot at your brother, though you couldn't hit a barn ten feet away."

"That you, Reube?" called Daniel.

"Of course it's me. What you askin' such silly questions for? You never did know beans, even before you ran away and joined them rebels."

"Don't git mad," said Daniel. "I thought it was some other Yank. Say, Reube, did you say that all the folks at home was well? I hain't heard from them in a hull year."

"None o' your business how they are. Anybody mean 'nuff to go off and join the rebel army needn't be askin' about decent folks. I've got a heap o' things laid up agin you, young man, and you'll do a lot of beggin' when I git holt of you."

"But you'll never git holt," replied Daniel, while all those around him raised a cheer.

"Yes, I will. Grant is goin' to capture your old army for sure, and then me an' you will settle things."

"Tell General Grant to go to grass."

It was funny what influence that little thing had on the opposing rifle pits. It came to be known to hundreds of men on each side that Reuben and Daniel were brothers, and their names became household words. They were on duty only three times before their respective regiments were relieved, but the men who came after them had something to talk about. All of a sudden there would come a lull in the murderous firing, and a Confederate would raise his voice and call out:

"Say, yo' Yank over there, what has become of Dan'l's brother?"

"Oh, he's all right!" would be answered. "And how's Dan'l getting along?"

"He's all right."

All through the last days of the fighting Reuben looked for Daniel, but it was only at Appomattox that he found him among the men whose brave fight was over at last. As Daniel rounded his musket and looked at the flag he had fought for Reuben stepped up to him with extended hand and said:

"So I have found ye at last, have I? Now, then, you shake hands and begin to be decent and come along home with me and see what father's got to say about your shootin' my cap off."

M. QUAD.

[Already Japan has cut off the world's supply of camphor, which she controls.—News Item.]

We occidentals face a foe more dire than Jap or Russian. A foe more greatly to be feared than Chinaman or Prussian. The camphor that we yesterday regarded with such loathing is ours no more, and so the moth will gobble up our clothing.

Soon will the mighty moth invade And fight us to a finish. And, camphorless, I am afraid Our wardrobes will diminish. When in the Cherry Blossom Land The dogs of war are dinning, We'll take our summer outing, and The moth will take his inning.

When winter comes I plainly see We'll have to dress in leather Or else in cotton drapery Unsusited to the weather. When rheumatism seizes us— Oh, friend, have you reflected?— There'll be no camphor saliment To soothe the parts affected.

AS OLD AS THE PYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proved beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids. This blighting curse has been handed down from nation to nation and from individual to individual till it has spread to all parts of the world.

Contagious blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, sores appear in the mouth and the throat becomes ulcerated, and as the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly infected, the hair and eyebrows drop out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored blotches, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body.

The horror of this awful disease can never be told. The one who contracts it suffers in body and mind, and if the poison is not eradicated transmits the taint to his children, and Contagious Blood Poison thus becomes responsible for many of the ills of childhood—Skin Eruptions, Catarrhal Troubles, Sore Eyes, Scalp Disease, White Swelling, Scrofula and others just as bad. S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, has long been recognized as a radical and safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It counteracts the deadly virus and cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and under its tonic effects the general health improves and soon all signs of blood poison are gone. The strong mineral remedies, Mercury and Potash, which are so often prescribed for the disease, dry up the sores, skin eruptions and all external signs, but leave the stomach and digestion ruined and the system in such condition that the disease usually returns in worse form than ever.

S. S. S. is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. If you have blood poison write for our special book, describing the different stages and giving all the symptoms, with directions for treating one's self at home. Our physicians will furnish any information or advice wanted free of charge.

The Effective Remedy

WASHINGTON, Iowa, April 4, 1903.

I was troubled for over a year with so scanty a flow that it was virtually suppression. A heavy cold superinduced this condition and nothing I could do seemed to help me. The only effective remedy I ever found was Wine of Cardui. Within two weeks I felt the good effects of the medicine and after I had used 18 bottles in all I was as healthy and regular as any woman could wish to be.

My sister used it while expecting to become a mother and found that it made childbirth comparatively easy and after the child was born she found that it helped her to regain her strength.

Each Had Premonition That Something Terrible Had Happened and Hurried to Baby's Crib.

A special dispatch to the Advocate from Toboso (Black Hand) says: The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rice was found dead in bed Tuesday night.

The child had been sick almost since its birth, but on Tuesday it was thought that he was much better. The child was put to bed Tuesday night and the parents retired and fell asleep. During the night the father and mother both awoke at the same time, with a premonition that something terrible had happened and on examining the baby found that he was dead. HAD A VERY JOLLY SESSION LAST EVENING.

Mayor Grilly Presided as Toastmaster and the Program and Banquet Were of the Best

One of the pleasant events of the week, was the open social session given by the local order of Eagles, in their April A. O. U. W. Hall on the south side, Tuesday evening.

There were about 150 in attendance, including a number of visitors from out of town, who were welcomed in royal fashion and made to feel at home by their Newark brethren.

The principal feature of the evening was the banquet prepared and served under the supervision of the social session committee of which Mr. John P. Lamb was president. The affair was complete in every detail and those who sat down to the bountiful supply of good things enjoyed the spread thoroughly.

Mayor A. J. Grilly presided as toastmaster and introduced the speakers, who all seemed to imbibe the spirit of the occasion and their remarks were for the most part indicative of the prevailing good fellowship. The speakers included a number of the visitors as well as members of the local Aerie.

Dr. A. T. Speer Presided as Toastmaster, and an Enjoyable Program Was Carried Out.

The Beech Island club enjoyed a midwinter meeting known as an "inning" Tuesday night at Kuster's, which was in many respects one of the most enjoyable ever held by this famous organization.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with palms and the tables were arranged in a most artistic manner. When all were seated the following menu was faithfully served:

Clam Chowder,
Boston Baked Beans, Fried Liver,
Potato Salad,
Holland Herring, Head Cheese,
Ham, Liver Pudding, Tongue,
Rye, Wheat and Brown Bread,
Switzer Cheese, Limberger Cheese,
Pickles, Olives, Celery, Horn's Hill, Consumers.

Dr. A. T. Speer presided as toastmaster and a great number of impromptu speeches were made.

After the toasts were finished they adjourned to the parlors, where the rest of the evening was spent in playing cards and discussing the plans of the next season's entertainments at Buckeye Lake, where the club holds an outing once each month during the summer season.

Dorcas Social a Success.

The Dorcas Society of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, the new Lutheran congregation recently organized on the West Side, is to be congratulated on the splendid success of its first social. It was a success in every way. Over two hundred and twenty-five lunches were served and a neat sum added to the society's treasury. The only unfortunate feature of the evening and one that could not be avoided, was the cramped condition of the rooms. The music by the Trio Gam Trio from Denison added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The large crowd made it necessary for Mrs. Heller as well as Mrs. Standish to keep open house. About forty of St. Paul's people were in attendance.

QUIET BOOM FOR JUDGE PARKER.

Certainly Judge Parker, of New York, is not an obtrusive quality as a presidential aspirant. He has yet to blossom as a candidate, having discreetly avoided all commitment in that direction. If the Democrats of New York at the State convention present him as the choice of the party in that great State, which is admitted a pivotal point in the presidential canvass, the chances strongly favor Judge Parker's nomination at the St. Louis convention of July. But if the New Yorkers do not so declare, the judge will have no tears to shed. He leaves the matter with the Democracy of his State, and is taking no steps to control or direct their action. President Roosevelt on the other hand, is the most active and aggressive candidate for a presidential nomination the country has ever seen, and there is little doubt that he will make the point, and by a unanimous nomination, barring accidents, which seem even outside the range of probabilities. A close friend of Judge Parker in New York writes as follows of his characteristics and ambitions:

"I know that Judge Parker is not a candidate, and that he is doing nothing and encouraging nothing that is being done looking to his nomination. He is well content where he is, the bench being congenial to his tastes, and he is in no sense an aspirant for the nomination. He has been on the bench for over twenty years, and judicial life is thoroughly to his taste. He has never sought any political office other than a place on the bench."

The same authority declares: "Judge Parker is a loyal Democrat and a patriot. He has always stood by his party. His party loyalty could never be questioned." There is no question about that, if it is deemed essential at this time, for, as the authority adds:

"He voted for Mr. Bryan twice, as he has always regularly and consistently voted the Democratic ticket." The judge has so far discountenanced any active movements on his behalf, but "he is a loyal Democrat, and if the convention gives him the nomination, he would accept."

BARBARIC WHITE HOUSE DISPLAY.

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

To keep step with imperial progress politically the social conditions in the White House are becoming very gorgeous. It takes an army detachment headed by a colonel, with a second lieutenant bringing up the rear, to get the President into the reception room in proper form. The military staff is in the foreground from first to last. The barbaric display is further glorified by the brilliant uniform of the diplomats, every one of whom, by Mr. Roosevelt's request (command), must come in the bravest finery he has in his trunk. This is a brilliant shadow of imperialism.

FROG LEGS

ARE NOW CLASSED AS DRESSED POULTRY.

Officially Decided by Secretary of the Treasury in Order to Fix the Right Tariff Price.

New York, Feb. 3.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald is as follows:

Under the Dingley tariff law frogs' legs are dressed poultry. This was officially decided by the Secretary of the Treasury after he and the experts of the customs division had made an exhaustive study of the question for three months.

The question arose about November 1, when the auditor for the Treasury department wrote a letter to the Secretary, informing him that certain collectors of customs along the Canadian border were admitting frogs' leg to the United States under a 10 per cent duty in accordance with the provision of the Dingley law fixing that rate for raw or unmanufactured articles not specifically provided for.

The auditor suggested that it might be possible to assess a higher rate of duty. The Secretary, anxious to afford the fullest measure of protection to American frogs, turned the matter over to the customs division for an answer to the question:

"What are frogs' legs?" There was a consultation of the tariff experts, and several of them were assigned to the duty of solving the problem. They set about it in a practical way, and, after eating frogs' legs in every style in which they could be prepared, submitted their reports.

One of them reported that the frogs' legs he had been eating certainly were real. Another declared that the ones he had sampled were ducks' legs, and a third was certain that those he had eaten were chickens' legs.

The weight of the evidence and the Secretary's practical experience in some experiments that he had been making on his home table were on the side of the contention that a frog was a bird, and consequently, a letter was written the auditor that, under what is known as the "similitude" section of the tariff law, frogs' legs were to be classed as dressed poultry, and that duty was to be assessed on them at the rate of five cents per pound.

MURDER AND ARSON

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 3.—Two unknown men were burned to death last night in a fire which consumed the Louisville and Nashville railway pumping station. The engineer went to lunch, leaving an old man named Tally in the station. The first body found was thought to be his, and the coroner was about to decide accordingly when the old man appeared. He tells a sensational story that three men came in shortly after the engineer left and ordered him to leave. This morning while clearing the debris away, a portion of another body was discovered. The authorities are now working on the theory that both murder and arson were committed, but are at a loss as to the identity of the men burned.

COLUMBIA MAY BE PAID MONEY

By the United States in Settlement of Her Loss By Secession of Panama--Democrats Insists on Righting the Wrong as Condition for Ratifying Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The Republican leaders in the Senate and the administration believe that all misunderstandings between the United States and Colombia will be removed in the next two weeks as a result of negotiations now in progress, that the treaty with Panama will be ratified, and the whole unpleasantness surrounding the Panama affair will be cleared away.

This is the substance of a statement made by Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations. The senator indicated that the basis of the arrangement expected to bring about these results was the payment to Colombia by the United States of a sum of money, understood to be between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

It is the understanding of the senator that an arrangement of this kind will be acceptable to most of the Democratic senators, provided it is made entirely plain to them that the people and government of Colombia enter into it heartily and that it will have the effect of restoring the good feeling that formerly existed in Colombia toward the United States.

This is in accord with the resolution offered some days ago by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, for compensation to Colombia.

Before the arrangement is made public it is said a resolution will be presented by Senator Gorman or some other Democrat instructing the President to take steps to bring about a restoration of good feeling with Colombia. Following the completion of the negotiations, the Republicans expect that all the Democrats with the exception of four will vote for the ratification of the Panama treaty. These four are Tillman, Bailey, Carmack and Daniel.

Democratic senators who were seen on the subject would not admit they had any knowledge of the arrangement spoken of by Senator Cullom. They did not deny, however, that if the administration found honorable means of satisfying Colombia and restoring the good understanding between that country and the United States they would give it their sanction.

This makes it appear there is a substantial basis to the statement of Senator Cullom that an understanding with Colombia is in sight and that the ratification of the Panama treaty will not be much longer delayed.

WATCHMAN INJURED.

Samuel Schnaidt Stepped Out of the Way of One Train in Front of Another at Fifth Street Crossing Wednesday Noon.

Mr. Samuel Schnaidt, one of Newark's oldest and best known citizens, who for several years past has faithfully filled the position of watchman at the Fifth street railroad crossing was the victim of a serious accident shortly before noon on Wednesday. He had just flagged the crossing for an east bound freight train and had stepped over on another track in order to get out of its way, when a west bound passenger train struck and knocked him some considerable distance. Those who witnessed the accident supposed that the unfortunate man had been killed, and were greatly surprised to see him regain his feet and walk over to the restaurant of Mr. George Fessler, with the blood pouring from a ghastly wound in his head. Physicians were hurriedly telephoned for, and in an almost incredibly short time, Drs. Powers, Knauss, Smith and Stedem responded.

The injured man, who displayed wonderful nerve, was placed on a couch, and his principal injuries which consisted of a bad scalp wound six or seven inches in length, and a severe puncture on the back of the head, were skillfully dressed by Dr.

Knauss, assisted by Dr. Stedem. He was then taken to his home, 155 South Fifth street, where it was found that he had sustained a number of painful bruises on the body and hands. The physicians are of the opinion that the injured man will rapidly recover unless unforeseen complications should set in.

BATTLE

On the Isthmus—Indians Fight With Troops That are Supposed to be Colombians.

Panama, Feb. 3.—Positive information was received from Colon that an attack had been made by Colombian troops on an Indian village on the San Blas Coast several miles this side of Cape Tiburon. It is said that the soldiers arrived in canoes and drove away the Indians.

After firing a few shots and killing and wounding several Indians the Colombians took possession of the house. It is not possible to obtain further facts. Rear Admiral Coghlan immediately upon receipt of the news sent the gunboat Bancroft, which had been coaling with the expectation to start last night for Ciriqui Lagoon to investigate.

Officers who have recently been scouting along the coast fully credit the report. It has long been said that the Colombian plan of campaign would be to take possession of some point admittedly in Panama territory and not on the line of transit on the isthmus, in the belief that while such would be admittedly hostile action the United States would not attack, but would leave the matter with the Panama troops.

One theory is that a few companies of soldiers, with officers, left Titumati without the sanction of their superiors after getting weary of illness and poor rations in the Colombian camps. It is said that no provisions have been sent to Titumati from Cartagena since a month ago, when 20 days' rations per capita were distributed. The supplies consisted of lard, rice and kerosene.

The invaders may be deserters who are only anxious to remain at ease. It is not known what action the Bancroft may take if she finds the Colombians in Panama territory.

THE COURTS

Day's Doings in the Local Courts—Property Transfers—Criminal Business in the Courts.

Mrs. Anna Hurlbaugh by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, has commenced an action in the Common Pleas Court for divorce from her husband, Calvin Hurlbaugh. The plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant on Nov. 6, 1901, and that no children have been born to them. Plaintiff alleges that during the whole of her married life, her husband has been an habitual drunkard and has failed and neglected to furnish her at any time during their marriage with the necessities of life. Extreme cruelty and infidelity are also charged against the defendant.

Another Divorce Suit.

Mrs. Mary Long, by her attorney, O. W. Patrick, has filed a petition in the Common Pleas court asking for a divorce from her husband, Geo. Long. Plaintiff says that she was married to the defendant on Nov. 29, 1888, and that one child, Charles, aged three years, is the issue of such marriage. For cause of action the plaintiff says that the defendant has been guilty of extreme cruelty in striking and threatening to cut her throat. Gross neglect of duty is also charged.

Common Pleas Court.

In the case of Ohio vs. Peter Strear charged with pocketpicking, the jurors returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty as charged. They add to their verdict: If it be the privilege of this jury, we recommend the prisoner to the mercy of the court. G. W. Marriott signs the verdict as foreman.

A motion for a new trial will be filed by the defendant's counsel, it being claimed that the evidence did not sustain the verdict. Fitzgibbon; Bolton.

In the case of Ohio vs. Duq. Clifton the prosecuting witness failed to appear, and the court on motion, dismissed the case for want of prosecution. The defendant was charged with forgery. Another case against the same defendant is set for trial for Friday next. Fitzgibbon; Bolton.

GOLD

Discovered in Union County Causes Excitement—Sand Pays $3.03 per Ton, Government Assay.

Marysville, O., Feb. 3.—Recently while drilling in a well on the farm of Edward Lucas, in Allen township, this county, samples of gold bearing sand were discovered by the drillers. The samples were sent to the offices of the Wooster Mining company at Wooster and the government assay office at Washington.

The latter reported Tuesday and places the value of a ton of the pay sand at $3.02, divided as follows: Gold, 50 cents; silver 65 cents, and copper $1.68. This assay makes the ore richer than the average, which for pay dirt is about $2.50 per ton.

Lancaster, O., Feb. 3.—The apparition of a woman, bareheaded and barefooted, clad only in her night robe, and wandering aimless through ice and snow, met the startled gaze of Officer Thomas yesterday. The officer took her by the arm and demanded what she was doing on the street in her condition. The woman replied, "I would not be here if you hadn't dragged me out. The officer, with the assistance of a passerby, got her to the city prison, where she slowly recovered. She lived on Broad street, and for some time has been subject to attacks of somnambulism. Her son was awakened after his mother had left the house and immediately sought the aid of the police in locating her. He found her at the police station and took her home. The woman is now in a serious condition.

Marion, O., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Joseph Umphberger, 40 years old, had a terrible experience while temporarily demented. She arose about 2 o'clock and in stockings and nightgown walked seven miles through the drifted snow. When her husband, a prominent farmer, woke, he at once formed a searching party. His wife was found wandering about on the roadway by an officer. She was almost exhausted and badly frost bitten.

NEWS OF THE STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD

MYSTERY

Surrounds Sudden Disappearance of a Delaware Man, Whose Affairs Appear in Good Shape.

Delaware, O., Feb. 3.—A sensation was created here Tuesday when it became known that George W. Tracy, a prominent politician and business man had suddenly disappeared.

Mr. Tracy left a note saying that he had left home for good, but did not name his destination. His family refuse to make public the contents of this paper.

Mr. Tracy had just recently sold out his real estate business and also his brick residence on North Franklin street, and was thought to have large deposits in the bank. Part of this he is supposed to have taken with him, and the rest was transferred to his wife and fixed so that she could draw it.

Several citizens have made a hasty examination of his affairs and have found everything in apparently good shape. The cause of his departure is most mystifying as his family relations were considered entirely pleasant.

NEW CASHIER CHOSEN.

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 3.—County Treasurer F. W. Severns has been elected cashier of the new Farmers' and Merchants' National bank, in which A. J. Solomon, of Columbus, is largely interested and which will be opened here April 1. Mr. A. L. Byrns, cashier of the Butler, O. bank, will be the assistant cashier.

An X-ray machine was sent for but before it was applied her son found the missing false teeth on an ashpile near the house. Mrs. Thompson rapidly improved upon hearing of the discovery.

MURDERER'S LAST CHANCE.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—The supreme court Tuesday granted Otis Loveland, convicted of complicity in the murder of Farmer Geyer, near Columbus, and sentenced to the electric chair along with Louis Harmon, permission to file a petition in error, which will bring his case before the supreme court for final determination as to a new trial.

DECLARES JUROR WINKED.

A Coshocton Man Makes a Strange Allegation—In a Motion for a New Trial He Says That a Jury-man and a Lawyer Signalled to Each Other.

Coshocton, Feb. 3.—As a sequel the damage suit in which the jury found for the defendant, Dr. McLean and Hall, in an action brought by Osborn Meyers for alleged malpractice, was begun when attorneys Powellson and Staats for the plaintiff filed a motion for a new trial, making some highly sensational allegations.

The petition alleges that the court erred in several ways, the last of which it alleges that there was misconduct on the part of the jurors. It says: "One, Harshtine, a juror on the trial of this action, while so engaged and while sitting in the jury box, and while the trial was being conducted and sitting facing counsel for defendants, winked his eye and nodded his head in approval of their statements to the court and jury."

CAR SHOPS

OF THE W. & L. E. AT CANTON DE-STROYED BY FIRE

Entailing a Loss of $100,000—It is Doubtful of the Company Rebuilds the Plant.

Canton, O., Feb. 3.—Fire broke out in the immense car shops of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and totally destroyed the main building, entailing a loss estimated at nearly $100,000. Two locomotives in the shop for minor repairs were reduced to scrap iron and are practically worthless, while thousands of dollars worth of valuable machinery in the machine shop was ruined. The fire, it appears, was started by the explosion of a head light. Just as the flames broke forth a lizard sprang up and fanned the fire, and for a while it was feared that the surrounding buildings and home of the railroads would be licked up by the flames. The firemen fought hard and succeeded in preventing the communication of the flames to the oil houses where thousands of gallons of explosive oils are stored.

The important question which confronts Canton citizens is the future course of the railroad company. Serious doubts are expressed whether the shops will be rebuilt and it is feared that they will be moved to another city. It is understood that an effort will be made to sell the immense plant of the structural steel car company, defunct, to the railroad company. This plant is well situated and the equipment of the present buildings would be advantageous.

FAIR OFFICERS ELECTED.

Mt. Vernon, O., Feb. 3.—The Knox County Agricultural society has elected the following directors for the ensuing year: Charles Gearhart, Dr. J. F. Shrontz, Lagrand Britton, M. H. Bricker and Dr. L. L. Williams. The directors elected George D. Neal president, Dr. L. L. Williams vice president and Isaac Errett secretary. The fair next fall will be held the last three days in September and the first day in October.

OHAS. M'SHANE'S DEATH.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—The body of Charles McShane, the well known clerk who was found in the ice in Alum creek Monday was removed to his old home in New Lexington, O., Tuesday. The suicide theory has been scouted by his friends who say that such action on his part was entirely out of reason.

PEACEMAKER STABBED.

Marion, O., Feb. 3.—Alexander Snyder, a painter, was bound over to the grand jury in the mayor's court for alleged assault on his brother-in-law, Samuel Winters, who was stabbed in a dozen places about the face and body. The trouble was the result of a spat between Winters and his wife, because the mother wanted their child to go to Sunday school and the father objected. Mrs. Winters called her brother and the desperate fight between the two men followed.

FOUND DEAD

Mrs. Mary Claypool an Aged Widow of Pleasant Valley, Died Suddenly, Tuesday.

Zanesville, O., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Mary Claypool, the aged and highly respected relict of Felix Claypool of Pleasant Valley, was found dead at her home at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday forenoon.

Mrs. Claypool was in her usual good health Tuesday morning and got breakfast for herself and little Robbie Brown, who made his home with her. After breakfast the lady went to school near by, returning at recess for something to appease his childish hunger.

After finding something to eat he went to look for Mrs. Claypool and found her leaning against the bed with her feet on the floor, but apparently asleep. His attempt to awaken her being futile, he alarmed the school, which in turn spread the news throughout the neighborhood. Doctor Drake, of Nashport, was summoned, but she was dead.

The funeral will take place from Pleasant Valley church at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, and the interment will be made in the Hanover cemetery.

EAGLE FOR CONGRESS.

Gallipolis, O., Feb. 3.—The Republican County Central Committee by a vote of 16 to 4, endorsed Sherman H. Eagle for Congressman and Evan D. Davis for Circuit Judge. Eagle's endorsement is the culmination of a long struggle for control of the county organization between him on one side and R. M. Switzer, Hollis C. Johnston and Roscoe J. Mauck on the other. Johnston has been a candidate for Common Pleas Judge, but the committee took action distinctly hostile to his ambition, while Eagle's candidacy for Congress, with a delegation of his own choosing from Gallia, will figure largely in Tenth District politics.

of Dr. Campbell Wept in the Courtroom.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 3.—Under a stern rebuke administered by Judge Phillips for their frivolous conduct in the courtroom the three daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Campbell, for the first time since their parents' divorce case was put on, sat abashed and weeping at the trial table. Said the judge: "These young people found occasion for a good deal of merriment while their own father was on the stand. Why they laughed I don't know. If what the doctor was saying was true there certainly was no occasion for merriment. If it was untrue then for a greater reason they should have listened gravely to their father's tale with its resulting degradation, humiliation and shame to themselves."

During this arraignment Mrs. Campbell and her daughters sat with bowed head, two of the three daughters crying.

OFFICER

Was Justified in Firing Fatal Shot, Says Coroner—El. Barnhart Will Surely Die.

Jackson, O., Feb. 3.—The miners of Coalton quit work yesterday and stood around in groups discussing the affair which resulted in the death of John Barnhart and the mortal wounding of Henry Barnhart.

The latter is struggling gamely for life, but his attending physician says that there is no hope for his recovery, a bone bullet penetrated his body to the left of the heart and lodged in the back, and the other passed through his left side. William Wisecup, the innocent bystander, is now considered out of danger.

Coroner Monahan found that John Barnhart came to his death by a bullet fired by Marshal Gillespie, and also found that Gillespie was justified in firing the fatal shot. The vindication of the Marshal by the Coroner meets with the approval of the citizens of Coalton.

"Throughout the trying ordeal Marshal Gillespie displayed a coolness and judgment that is rare. While lying on the floor being attacked by four desperate men who had spread terror throughout the village on more than one occasion, he vainly called for help, and warned his aggressors before resorting to his gun. After disposing of John and Henry Barnhart he coolly loaded his revolver, pursued Frank Barnhart, who was attempting to escape, arrested him and landed him in the city prison. After doing his duty he gave himself up to Sheriff Johnson, who had in the meantime arrived on the scene.

The Barnhart boys, it is said, have been for years the source of trouble for the officers of Coalton. Because of them, it is said that it has been heretofore difficult to secure a Marshal to serve in that village, two having resigned in the last year.

Only three of the fifteen members of the British famous electoral commission of 1871 survive—Senator Edmunds, Senator Hoar and General Eppa Hunton of Virginia. All of the five justices of the Supreme court who sat on the commission long since passed away.

The deaths by violence in Chicago during 1902 numbered 257. Of these 142 were suicides.

SOLDIER

AND HIS YOUNG BRIDE TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Relatives Frowned on the Marriage and Valois Had No Money to Support His Wife.

Saginaw, Mich., Feb. 3.—Less than a week ago a marriage ceremony performed in this city uniting Corporal Charles A. Valois and Mabel Steiner was the culmination of a romance in which a brave young soldier had come all the way from the Philippines on a furlough to claim the hand of her who was a mere girl when he left his Michigan home to fight in Uncle Sam's army abroad.

Yesterday a dead woman and dying man, the bride and groom of a week ago, made up the gruesome picture which confronted the attaches of Wynn's boarding house when they broke open the door of a room engaged by the couple.

Valois said he and his wife went to the Wynn place determined to end it. They got there about 10 o'clock and Valois said the poison, carbolic acid, was taken about an hour later.

The following letter was found addressed to no one in particular:

"Forgive us for our rash act, but we could not help it. We have been turned down by all our folks and relatives because I married the girl I loved, and that is our reason for dying, because I know nobody will bother us when we are dead. So all I have to say is goodbye to all from

"Mabel and Charlie."

The above was scrawled on the front of a piece of note paper which on the reverse side contained this postscript:

"We only ask one favor. Please bury us together, and bury my wife's picture with me and my soldier's clothes. Goodbye all."

Valois was taken to St. Mary's hospital. He may recover.

response as a warning to Japan," says the Bourse Gazette.

GRAVER THAN EVER

Is the Far East Crisis, Says a High Russian Official.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—Count Lamsborg had an audience with the Emperor to report upon the conclusion of opinions arrived at by the council of ministers which took place under the presidency of the Grand Duke Alexis. The meeting was of the highest importance. On no day has the situation been generally accepted as so grave. A highly placed official admitted this, saying that the Japanese seem to have made up their minds that it would be more advantageous for them to fight now than later.

"Russia cannot climb down," said my General, as a final word. "I don't see the remotest possibility of war being averted. At the best it can only be postponed for a short time."

ALLEGED PLAN

Of Germany to Occupy Copenhagen Stirs the Russian Press.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—A member of the general staff, on being asked whether he had heard anything of the German plan of occupying Copenhagen, replied that he had not. The London correspondent of the Novoe Vremya telegraphs that a strong impression is being made in England by the possibility of Germany pushing ahead in her aggrandizing projects at the expense of Denmark, Holland and Belgium in case of international complications, implying naturally that even that four great powers would have their hands tied in the far East.

The Svet says: "Germany expects to exact much for her neutrality." The Harold, the German paper here, is frantic and uses the words "Blodsinn." "Wahnsinn." "Phantasia," concerning the matter, which has long been the dream of Germany's rulers and greatest statesmen.

READY TO THROW

Thirty Thousand Troops Into Korea if Russia Will Not Yield.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 3.—Advices from Tokio up to date of January 22, and received by the Empress of Japan, say Japanese preparations for war were being pushed to the utmost, and it was credibly rumored that if the Russian reply proved finally unacceptable Japan would immediately throw 30,000 troops into Korea to safeguard her interests there. One notable feature is the increased friendliness shown toward the United States by the whole Japanese people.

KOREAN RULER

Wants 20,000 Russians to Protect Him, But Claims Neutrality.

Seoul, Feb. 3.—The situation is quiet here but native disturbances throughout the country are continuing. The efforts of the Emperor and the Korean government are entirely concentrated upon obtaining recognition from the powers of the neutrality of Korea. Notwithstanding these efforts the Emperor is still trying to procure 20,000 Russian soldiers to protect his palace and court. The presence of Russian soldiers at Antung is confirmed and the commanding officer is reported to be investigating the sites best adapted for fortification.

It is announced that Red Cross surgeons and officers will come from Germany and Switzerland. The Korean government has requested the Russian minister to suspend operations under the timber concession on the Yalu river, but the minister has refused to order the company owning the concession to quit work.

AMUSEMENTS.

The theatrical event of the week will be the presentation of "The Crisis" by Miss Isabel Irving and her company at the Auditorium tomorrow night. Miss Irving is too well known to need introduction. She was for some years the leading woman of the Lyceum Theatre in New York, taking the place made vacant by the retirement of Miss Georgia Cayvan and being followed on her departure to become leading woman for Mr. John Drew by Miss Mary Manning who is in private life the wife of Mr. Jas. K. Hackett, the young actor-manager who is now directing Miss Irving's tour.

As leading woman at the Lyceum, Miss Irving created such parts as Flavia with Mr. Hackett in "The Prisoner of Zenda" and in a similar capacity to Mr. John Drew she created all the leads in the comedies in his repertoire. Mr. Hackett knowing her charm and her ability offered early last season to star her in "The Crisis" in which he was then himself playing dividing with Miss Irving the territory in which the play was to be seen.

So great was Miss Irving's success as Virginia Carvel that at the end of the first season Mr. Hackett decided to allow her the sole use of this play.

TOMORROW'S LECTURE.

"A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio, or How Statues are Made," is the subject of Lorado Taft's lecture at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. Mr. Taft is one of the foremost sculptors of this country. He is none the less renowned as a lecturer. His lecture is brim full of information and is illustrated fully at each step by actual processes of clay modeling. An evening of the keenest enjoyment and the highest educational value is promised those who attend. The Chicago-Record Herald speaks thus of him:

"A pleasant speaker in love with his art and unstinted in his expression of admiration of meritorious work, he avoids technical terms, and the whole of his discourse is understood and enjoyed by all."

GREAT SOUTHERN.

E. H. Sothern's production of "A Proud Prince" at the Great Southern theatre at Columbus Tuesday evening, was witnessed by an audience that occupied every seat in the large auditorium. It was considered by all who saw it to be one of the very best plays ever seen in Columbus.

Governor Herrick witnessed the performance from a private box and he and his party showed their pleasure by hearty applause.

Those from Newark who attended the performance were W. D. Fulton and wife, Fred Knowlton, Joe Miller, Joe Greene, Mrs. O. C. Jones, Miss Louise Beecher and several others.

B. & O. Files Answer to Brakeman Richardson's Suit in United States Court--Want Smith Bill Passed--Many New Coaches for B. & O.--Budget of Local Railway Gossip.

F. A. Durban, attorney and agent of the B. & O. railroad company on Tuesday filed an answer with the clerk of the United States Circuit court at Columbus in the case of James W. Richardson against the B. & O. railroad company. The suit was brought by the plaintiff, who was employed as brakeman. At the time of the accident Richardson was on one of the B. & O. trains from which he fell and had his left hand and wrist injured so that he was compelled to have the injured member amputated at the wrist joint. In the answer, the defendant claims that the accident was due to Richardson's own negligence.

Want Smith Bill Passed.
Senator N. F. Overturn of Delaware, presented a petition to the Ohio Senate from railroad employees at Delaware, asking the passage of the Smith bill, pending in the Senate, and repealing the fellow-servant law. It was referred to the committee on railroads and telegraph.

Surveys for New Road.
Surveys for the Winnipeg, Yankton and Gulf railroad will soon be commenced, beginning at Yankton and going north. The new road will run from Lake Winnipeg to the Gulf of Mexico. Work will soon be begun in Nebraska. It is believed that Galveston will be the terminus in the south. The road will pass through the eastern parts of the Dakotas and Nebraska.

New B. & O. Coaches.
Within the next few days the B. & O. will have delivered to its terminals in Columbus a large number of the 82 cars of all kinds ordered a few months ago for the special train service which the company will inaugurate at the opening of the world's fair at St. Louis in May.

Thirty-five of the new coaches will be turned over to the B. & O. S. W. two postal cars are to be delivered at Wheeling, two combination baggage and mail cars will go to Pittsburgh, while 10 baggage and mail cars, 15 baggage cars and ten coaches will be sent to Baltimore. Most of this equipment has been built by the Barney & Smith company of Dayton, O., and is of the latest design.

The cars are built solid and will carry a baggage tonnage of 30 tons. They are 60 feet in length, 28 feet of which is given to the baggage compartment. The interior finish of the smoking compartment is plain mahogany, with red plush seats. One of the new and commendable features is the continuous luggage rack, wide enough to hold a dress suit case nicely. The wash booth and wash stand are similar to the smaller Pullman booths in ventilator window construction, equipment, etc. There is also a small separate closet in which the trainmen can keep the train accoutrements. The cars are wide-vestibuled and are lighted by Pintsch gas. The exterior is of the standard B. & O. coach color.

Eight of the Pennsylvania lines' combination cars are being built at Altoona and seven at Columbus. The first deliveries are from the Columbus shops. These cars are wide-vestibuled and are lighted by electricity from a storage battery system, each battery being charged to run 20 hours. These cars are designed principally for the world's fair traffic. It is said that delivery of 35 54-foot vestibuled coaches from the Pullman company to the lines west is expected at any time.

Motive Power of the Future.
Former Superintendent of Motive Power Watt of the New York Central has returned from abroad. While in Europe he made a careful study of electrical development in Germany, France and Belgium. He says that this country is the master in the utilization of electricity and in the perfection of apparatus which harnesses and makes docile the electric current. He says that the tests in Germany have demonstrated that apparatus can be perfected by means of which an electrically propelled carriage can be driven at a speed of 120 miles an hour. It is Mr. Watt's opinion that for commercial or transportation purposes the apparatus is worthless. Its chief value, he says has been to demonstrate the practicability of an overhead electrical apparatus by means of which heavy trains like those now propelled by steam power may be driven. That demonstration may, in his opinion, hasten the substitution of electricity upon the American steam railroads, especially in view of the fact that at last apparatus has been devised by which the single phase alternating current instead of the direct current may be used.

B. & O. Relief Checks.
Checks have been received by B. & O. Medical Examiner Dr. S. C. Priest, for the following named employees of the company: B. W. St. Clair, E. C. Reid, C. D. Johnson, W. A. Hiatt, D. R. Boyd, O. F. Charles, J. E. Shaw, A. Hefley, J. H. Walcott, R. F. Huffman, G. W. Stinger, R. H. Harrison, F. L. Davis, J. W. McLaughlin, W. Rees, L. A. Church, M. M. Coleman, E. H. Wildman, W. M. Glenn, T. Coffman, N. R. Caslon, J. A. Young, S. D. McCann, W. L. Masters, and J. A. Hahn.

Fireman Kent Injured.
C. E. Kent a well known B. & O. fireman of this city, had the misfortune to meet with a very severe accident on Monday night. While running over the tank of his engine at Cambridge he fell from the tank to the ground, cutting his scalp making it necessary to take several stitches in order to close the wound. He will be confined to his home for several days as a result of his injuries.

Finger Badly Mashed.
W. H. Taylor a boiler maker, employed in the shops, had one of his fingers badly mashed by having it caught between the door and flue of an engine while he was engaged at work.

Killed in a Wreck.
Salineville, O., Feb. 2.—In a freight wreck here on the C. & S. P. yesterday Engineer J. Adams was killed and Brakeman John Callahan, of Cleveland, was seriously injured. The wreck resulted from an eastbound freight sideswiping an engine standing in the yard. Engineer Adams was killed by his engine being overturned on him.

DIRECTORS

ELECTED BY OHIO FUEL SUPPLY COMPANY.

Meeting at Zanesville was Followed by Trip on a Special Train Through Newark to Columbus.

Messrs. W. H. Kussmaul and Harry Miller of Granville, attended a meeting of about fifty of the stockholders of the Ohio Fuel Supply company, which was held in Zanesville Tuesday for the purpose of electing directors and officers. Many of those present were from Pittsburgh, Bradford, Oil City, Hamilton, Washington, and other Pennsylvania towns and went to Zanesville in a special car. The following directors were chosen:

M. C. Treat, Geo. W. Crawford, C. E. Crawford, F. W. Crawford, E. N. Treat, David Elsmann and J. M. Guard. They will meet in Columbus to elect officers for the ensuing year.

In the afternoon a special train on the B. & O. carried the stockholders through Newark about 3 o'clock, en route to Columbus, where a meeting was held at the Chittenden hotel, and important business was transacted.

The Ohio Fuel Supply company has been operating extensively and successfully in the Homer-Utica gas field in Northern Licking county.

FREE LIST

WITH CIRCUSES NOT SO LARGE THIS YEAR.

Bill Poster Rugg Will Get Only Thirty Tickets Whereas He Has Received 70 to 110.

With the news that Newark will have a circus—the Barnum & Bailey circus—early in the spring this year, comes the less pleasing news to many people, at least, that the free list for circuses all over the country is to be materially cut down.

This is the beginning of a crusade among the circus people against the wholesale presentation of complimentary tickets for many years has been done by the shows. This year the cut has started merely with the bill posters but it is understood that the circus people aim to gradually cut down the list of "comps" each year.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the National Bill Posters' association and the representatives from all of the circuses, held in Chicago, it was agreed that the bill posters receive a certain price which was set by the committee and the circus people and that the bill posters be allowed only a certain number of free tickets, the number being governed by the population of the town.

Heretofore the bill posters have had tickets "to burn" and wherever they placed posters or bills have presented the owners of the property with a liberal supply of tickets. According to the calculations of the committee, as Newark comes in the list of between 20,000 and 30,000 population, the Newark bill poster, Mr. W. W. Rugg's allotment of "comps" will be only 30 tickets instead of 70 to 110, which he has heretofore received.

Heretofore to meet the advance man or any one connected with the show meant the gift of some complimentary, but, now, according to the new rules it will probably mean nothing more than a pleasant smile and a handshake from the circus man.

However, persons accustomed to seeing the show free may console themselves that such a reform in the matter of cutting down the free list cannot be accomplished by the circus owners in a short time probably not for several years if ever, as the old rule is too well established to make a very great change at one jump.

PRAYER

THE SUBJECT OF DR. WATERMAN'S DISCOURSE.

Eloquent and Forceful Sermon Delivered Last Night at the Plymouth Congregational Church.

The service at the Plymouth Congregational church last night, though not so largely attended as Monday evening, was even more interesting and helpful. Dr. Waterman took as the basis of his sermon the prayer of Christ for his followers. Everyone was deeply impressed by the Doctor's sympathetic presentation of the great love and interest Jesus always manifested to those who believed on him.

The song service begins promptly at 7:30 and is led by a chorus choir. Tonight let all come and join in this enjoyable service and hear the inspiring words of Dr. Waterman. Everybody is invited.

Dr. Waterman last night spoke on Christ's prayer for his church. He said in part: Jesus was a man of prayer. At times he spent whole nights on the mountain side in prayer. If any good man could get along without prayer it was certainly the Son of God, but he could not. No Christian can retain and live the life of Christ without prayer. All the great and good men of the past have been men of prayer. Christ included us in his prayer for the church, almost his last utterance on earth. This is our strength and hope, we are blessed today in answer to this prayer.

Christ's desire is for his church, that "his body" shall be symmetrically beautiful and strong. This will be when all the parts of the church, great and small, obey his command. That the church exists today is the best evidence of its divine nature. A young man came from England to seek his fortune at the time of the gold excitement. In the Rockies he realized his anticipations, but as with man a turn of luck swept away his fortune and he was very poor. During his best days he sent across the seas a nugget of gold to her whom he loved and to whom he was engaged. In his poverty he wrote, releasing her from the engagement. To his great surprise as soon as the mail returned he received the nugget of gold in the form of a ring and inscribed on it these words: "Entreat me not to leave thee."

So Christ loves and entreats us. Let us show our appreciation and loyalty by filling the ranks and being in our place, and thus answering Christ's prayer. The people of Newark are invited to attend the services at Plymouth Congregational church tonight.

For all aches, pains, soreness, swellings and inflammation Hamlin's Wizard Oil used internally and externally has no equal.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER

In a Double Wedding, at Which Son and Brother Officiated.

Frankfort, Ind., Feb. 2.—A double wedding, to which there were attached many unusual features, took place in this city at the home of Mrs. Jeannette Lucas, one of the brides. The contracting parties were Mr. Jas. F. Dudley of Paxton, Ill., and Mrs. Jeannette Lucas of this city, and Mr. Edwin R. Weemer and Miss Alta Dudley, both of Paxton, Ill. Mr. Dudley and Miss Dudley are father and daughter, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Dudley of Linden, Ind., a son of the senior Mr. Dudley, and a brother of Miss Dudley. The double wedding was a surprise to Mr. Dudley and his bride, as he did not know that his daughter contemplated marriage until an hour before the time for the ceremony, when she arrived with her intended husband. Mr. Dudley is a real estate dealer and Mr. Weemer a shoe dealer at Paxton.

INTERESTING

WAS PROF. WILLIAMS' LECTURE TUESDAY NIGHT

At the First Presbyterian Church on "The Race as a Factor in Social Progress."

Prof. C. L. Williams of Denison university delivered an interesting lecture Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian church, under the auspices of Pan-Racial Institute Chapter No. 1 on "The Race as a Factor in Social Progress."

The lecture was preceded by a short musical program by the Moulders' quartet, Mr. Walter Spitzer favoring the audience with a solo, "Asleep in the Deep."

Prof. Williams said in discussing his subject that the word "race" is an indefinite term, but that it served well enough nevertheless to bring home to the mind the profoundly significant, if commonplace fact that mankind is divided and redivided by country and color lines, and by language, customs and traditions into groups or peoples, which by virtue of their differences in sentiments and ideals, act and react upon each other and upon society in general in various and subtle ways, producing results of both good and evil consequences.

Under the expression "persistence of type," he discussed the element of permanency in the race, citing from George Elliot and other writers instances in proof of the fact that the individual is at times unconsciously influenced and, occasionally, as in moments of great excitement, irresistibly controlled by impulses and emotions inherited from the ancestral stock from which he sprung.

Race hatred and prejudice, Dr. Williams maintained, is deeply entrenched in the human breast and finds expression in war and strife and contentions which militate against individual and social well being. Good consequences also spring from differences of race and types of culture. From the mingling of race blood a more sturdy and virile stock will often arise as in the case of the English.

Fundamentally, however, mankind is one, and superficial and, more or less artificial differences should not repel race from race and community from community to the extent they do and have done throughout all history. To call forth the many in the individual he must be treated as a man, be he an humble Italian peasant or proud and haughty Indian chief.

The next lecture in the course which Dr. Williams is giving, will be delivered in about two weeks on the subject, "Shakespeare as an Exponent of Human Nature, 'Jesus, the Universal Man,' being the subject of the third and last lecture."

FIRE SALE OVER

AT THE POWERS-MILLER COMPANY STORE.

New Goods for New Store Arriving—Store Will be Better and More Beautiful Than Before

The fire sale of the Powers-Miller company which has been going on for several weeks, in the Tucker room on East Main street, and also at the Fourth street armory ends today. Everything has been sold except a limited amount of wall paper and this will be given by the company to one of the charity organizations of the city.

While the fire of December 6 resulted in a heavy loss to the Powers-Miller company the people have profited by it and the city will lose nothing, as the company will within a few weeks, start anew with a larger and better stock in a building more elegant than the one which burned. It was a genuine fire sale, nothing but goods from the burned building being disposed of and the prices were such as to make the goods more quickly.

Everything has been sold, and not a dollar's worth of old goods will be taken into the new store. Mr. Frank Link, who went to New York to buy carpets and draperies is home and Mr. George D. Bradshaw and Mr. Root, who are still in New York will return within ten days. Mr. W. C. Miller who is in Michigan buying furniture will be home soon. Already some of the new stock has arrived and the work of rebuilding the Union block is being hurried so that the new store will be opened about March 15, or not later than April 1.

GROVE JONES

Granville Boy, is in Mansfield, La., Making Soil Survey for the National Government

The Journal of Mansfield, La., contains the following relative to Mr. Grove B. Jones, son of Mr. B. I. Jones, of Granville, who is in the employ of the Government, and who has been sent to that place to make a survey of the soils:

"The Journal confidently hopes that Messrs. Grove B. Jones and L. M. Ruhlman, the experts sent to our parish for the purpose of making a survey of our soils, will be hospitably received by our people. Parts of all the wards will be surveyed and to do this the gentlemen will be in the parish for several months. The survey will cost landowners nothing, the experts being in the employ of the national government. It will be valuable both to the landowner and the parish. The farmer will be able, from the report of the surveyors, to decide what his ground will produce best and where to plant different crops. The latter will be benefited by newcomers who will, in this way, become apprised of the advantages our location has to offer them."
